

THE EUROPEAN UNION'S PARTNERSHIP WITH THE G5 SAHEL COUNTRIES

WHY IS THE EU WORKING WITH AFRICA'S "G5 SAHEL COUNTRIES"?

In 2014, Burkina Faso, Chad, Mali, Mauritania, and Niger set up the "G5 Sahel" group of countries to foster close cooperation in the region and tackle the major challenges that these countries face. Since then, the EU has stepped up cooperation with this African-led initiative to build a strong partnership on many fronts: from political dialogue, to development and humanitarian support, to strengthening security and tackling irregular migration.

The Sahel region faces a number of pressing challenges such as extreme poverty, frequent food and nutrition crises, conflict, irregular migration and related crimes such as human trafficking and migrant smuggling; governance challenges, demographic growth or climate change. Violent extremism also poses a serious security challenge to the region and has potential spill-over effects outside the region, including Europe.

G5 SAHEL COUNTRIES

WHAT ARE THE EU'S MAIN AREAS OF SUPPORT TO THE G5 SAHEL COUNTRIES?

The EU is now supporting the G5 Sahel countries on 3 MAIN TRACKS:

POLITICAL PARTNERSHIP

The EU is a strong political partner of the G5 Sahel countries and has set up regular "EU-G5" dialogues. High Representative Vice-President Federica Mogherini has held annual meetings with G5 Sahel Foreign Ministers to strengthen cooperation in areas of shared interest such as development, governance in fragile areas, improved security, including the fight against terrorism and illicit trafficking. The EU is also strongly engaged in Mali's peace process.

SECURITY AND STABILITY SUPPORT

The EU supports concrete regional-led security initiatives. The EU has already provided €147 million to establish the African led G5 Sahel Joint Force which aims to improve regional security and fight terrorist and criminal groups. The EU is itself a key security partner in the region, with its 3 Common Security and Defence Policy missions; EUCAP Sahel Niger, EUCAP Sahel Mali, EU training mission (EUTM) in Mali. The EU has deployed the Regional Advisory and Coordination Cell (RACC) in Nouakchott, where the G5 Sahel Permanent Secretariat is based. The EU also provides other programmes to improve support stability and security in the region.

DEVELOPMENT COOPERATION

The EU, together with its Member States, is the biggest provider of development cooperation to the region with €8 billion over 2014-2020. It uses all its tools to support development efforts in the region, notably the 'EU Emergency Trust Fund for stability and addressing root causes of irregular migration and displaced persons in Africa' under which €1.865 billion has been committed so far for the region. The EU has also financed since 2015 under the Instrument Contributing to Stability and Peace (IcSP) several regional programmes in the G5 Sahel for €14 million. The EU is also a member and key supporter of the Sahel Alliance, set up to coordinate existing EU and Member States development cooperation better in the region, in a faster and more interlinked way than before through joint action. In response to the development and security priorities of the G5 Sahel – as set out in the Priority Investment Programme (PIP) – the EU announced additional funding of EUR 125 million at the Partners and Donors Coordination Conference in Nouakchott, Mauritania, last December.

HOW IS THE EU INVOLVED IN THE SAHEL ALLIANCE?

The EU is a member of the Sahel Alliance, launched and signed by the EU, France and Germany in July 2017. It is currently composed of 12 members: France, Germany, Italy, Spain, the United Kingdom, Luxemburg, Netherlands, Denmark, EU, UNDP, the African Development Bank (AfDB) and the World Bank. It aims at coordinating and delivering aid quicker and more efficiently in the region. It will have a particular focus on peripheral, cross border and fragile zones of the Sahel. Since its launch, the Sahel Alliance has identified priority six priority areas:

On 30th October 2018, the Alliance and the G5 Sahel signed a partnership protocol, which establishes the framework of the cooperation between the Sahel Alliance and the G5 Sahel.

The "Programme d'Urgence Développement" (PDU) was coordinated within the Sahel Alliance. It gathers the contributions of the EU and other donors, such as France and the UNDP.

The total amount of the PDU of the Sahel Alliance (including €98.3 million through the EU Trust Fund for Africa with German and Danish contributions).

WHAT SECURITY SUPPORT DOES THE EU PROVIDE IN THE SAHEL?

THE G5 SAHEL JOINT FORCE

The EU and its Member States have fully supported this African led initiative from the very beginning and provided a contribution of €147 million to help set it up. This EU funding is provided through the African Peace Facility and can only cover non-lethal equipment. This support also includes the establishment and operationalisation of a Human Rights and International Humanitarian Law compliance framework for the G5 Sahel Joint Force together with the UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR).

Building on the EU's defence planning capacity and expertise, the EU has set up a one of a kind Coordination Hub to gather together the many offers of international support to the G5 Joint Force. The Hub enables donors to channel much needed assistance. In practice it works by matching the offers of donors to a Recognised List of Needs provided and determined by the Joint Force. The EU is now working with the G5 Sahel in order to transfer the Coordination Hub to G5 Sahel structures.

To step up action on security, particularly in border areas in the Sahel countries which face terrorist and security threats, the G5 Sahel countries have set up their regional defence force. The Joint Force is comprised of troops from Mali, Mauritania, Niger, Burkina Faso and Chad, and operates in all five countries. The G5 Joint Force has permanent forces deployed along the borders, able to operate together under a centralised command and communication structure. This will help tackle the pressing terrorist and security threat in the region, which is a cross-border issue for all the countries concerned.

MISSIONS UNDER THE COMMON SECURITY AND DEFENCE POLICY (CSDP)

The EU currently has three CSDP missions and a specific action in the Sahel:

1- EUCAP Sahel Niger is a civilian capacity building Mission supporting the Nigerien Internal Security Forces (Police, Gendarmerie and National Guard) in strengthening the Nigerien capacities to fight against terrorism, organised crime and irregular migration, through advice, training and delivery of equipment. The Mission established a field office in Agadez, with a permanent presence from April 2016. The Mission provides its support to the Nigerien presidency of the G5, in particular regarding the operationalisation of the Police component of the G5 Sahel Joint Force. The mandate of EUCAP Sahel Niger runs until 30 September 2020.

2- EUCAP Sahel Mali is a civilian mission providing expertise in strategic advice, training and equipment to the Malian Police, Gendarmerie and National Guard, and the relevant ministries in order to support the restructuring of the Malian Internal Security Forces and reform in the security sector. Its mandate runs until January 2021. The Mission also supports the conceptualisation and operationalisation of the Malian Police component of the G5 Sahel Joint Force, in coordination with the other CSDP missions in the region.

3- EUTM Mali is a military training mission deployed in March 2013 in the aftermath of the crisis that provides advice to the Malian authorities in the restructuring of the Malian Armed Forces, from a "wartime" to a post-conflict/ peacetime structure in the frame of the implementation of the Algiers Peace Agreement and the general security sector reform, through the training of battalions and support for the elaboration of the first Defence Programming Law ever adopted in Mali. Its mandate runs until May 2020.

The EU has set in motion the regionalisation of its CSDP presence, with a network of security and defence experts deployed in EU delegations and a Regional Advisory and Coordination Cell based in Nouakchott. This will help coordinate capacity-building activities, support the operationalisation of the G5 Sahel Joint Force and facilitate synergies with EU-funded programmes in an integrated approach perspective.

HOW DOES THE EU SUPPORT THE PEACE PROCESS IN MALI?

The EU actively supports Mali's peace process and is a guarantor of the Peace and Reconciliation Agreement signed in 2015. The EU supports the United Nations Security Council Resolution for targeted sanctions against those who threaten the Mali peace agreement, and is a major partner of Mali on security and development. Two EU CSDP missions, one military (EUTM) and one civilian (EUCAP Sahel Mali) provide strategic advice and training to Mali's Armed and Internal Security Forces and relevant ministries in order to contribute to the restoration of Malian territorial integrity, the protection of the population, and to support the reform of the security sector.

€500,000

HIGH REPRESENTATIVE/VICE-PRESIDENT FEDERICA MOGHERINI visited Mali in June 2017 and announced EU support of €500,000 to the monitoring body ('Comité de Suivi') of the peace agreement in which the EU Special Representative for the Sahel, represents the EU, also within the international mediation.

HOW DOES THE EU SUPPORT THE REGION WITH HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE?

The European Union is one of the largest providers of humanitarian aid to the Sahel countries. In 2018, the European Commission allocated €193 million, to provide multi-sectoral humanitarian assistance to forced displacement, emergency food assistance, lifesaving nutrition treatment, essential health care, water and sanitation and protection to the most vulnerable population in the five G5 Sahel countries. Furthermore, the EU also supports disaster risk reduction initiatives to enhance emergency preparedness and response.
